Hey there << Test First Name >>

Thanks so much for connecting with us!

Here is a copy of my new eWorkbook, Work Life Juggle [\[Download now\]](#).

I wanted to officially welcome you to my Frankly Human family. :)

About 10 years ago, I found myself stuck, underemployed and feeling like I had SO much more to give the world and no obvious way to start doing that. Since then, I've been on a journey of study, practice, trial and error to understand and make a different path for myself to feel passionate AND also be deeply valued for my unique passion and talents as a person who gets paid for her brain power at work. What a difference 10 years makes, haha!

I've gone on to change careers, monumentally grow my seniority and salary in the design and technology industry, get divorced, have a baby, move house again and again. Meanwhile, I have done once-in-a-lifetime, amazing work with incredibly talented and kind people.

And I want to share with you the exercises and process that has given me huge amounts of clarity and direction with my life and work.

It's called the Why Workshop, it's a 60 minute LIVE online workshop to identify your core values and priorities, and the actions you can take to be more aligned with those values...

Together we'll develop a purpose statement based on your own personal values, that you can apply in work, business or life...

And I'm sharing the Why Workshop for FREE.

Because I want you to have the time and space to start with purpose :)

Sound good?

Awesome, then check out this video from me below and keep an eye out for my email tomorrow where I share some of the things we have been able to achieve with others who've participated in the Why Workshop...

Watch this video: Welcome to Frankly Human!

So if you're ready to get true clarity around your burning ambition and an action plan you can have confidence in...

Just click below to reserve your FREE spot on our Why Workshop...

I'm keen

Thanks again and I can't wait to have you join us!

X

Jac
